

HERITAGE CONFERENCE CENTER

THE ENGILITY HERITAGE CONFERENCE CENTER (HCC) IS DESIGNED TO MEET TODAY'S NEED FOR SECURE CONFERENCE FACILITIES

Conveniently located in Northern Virginia's Dulles high-technology corridor, the Engility HCC houses 25,000 square feet of world-class training and conference meeting space, including one of the largest secure auditoriums in the area.

The Engility HCC was built for our government customers to facilitate their secure conferences, briefings, working groups, training classes and special events. This facility features the Freedom Auditorium with its own lobby, secure communications and executive discussion rooms as well as five additional conference rooms, each with state-of-the-art sound and video presentation systems. Secure audio and video conferencing is available throughout the center. The Engility HCC is staffed with cleared, solely dedicated Engility employees who have the expertise to service every event detail from beginning to end.

Revolutionary War and National Intelligence names are incorporated throughout the Engility HCC to pay tribute to our nation's heritage. All conference rooms are named after major battles that resulted in American victories (Lexington, Concord, Saratoga, Trenton, Yorktown and Princeton). The Freedom Auditorium's discussion rooms are named after George Washington, Benjamin Franklin and John Jay—the founding fathers of American Intelligence.
